"HAND GLASS."

THE MARQUESS & COUNTESS OF ROOD WHITE.

When I met Lady Maria Martin
at lunch at the Savitz recently she told me as a great secret that her corns were troubling her greatly.

Corns are curious things. I should have proposed to Lady Felicity Hering ("Filletty") we used to call her years ago) only
I knew they were a family failing.
You would not dream from her lovely face that she, like all her family since "Callosity Charlie"
founded the line in 1780, is a martyr to them.

And speaking of corns reminds me that my old friend Merry-
thought—the Earl of Wishbone,
you know—is selling the family
carbuncles at Christies next month. It is a great secret, so far, and the news will come as a surprise to those not in the swim.
I must confess I only heard of it through being at Gallipoli House
over the week-end and wasn't supposed to be listening.

How horribly bored I've been
this week. An ineffably dreary dance—I won't particularise too closely—where I shook hands with that funny old Duke with blisters
on his knuckles, who has never forgiven my people since my sister refused his son and heir (the one who had to leave the country a little while ago owing to some clique to do with a signature on a cheque). A dinner in Hertfordstreet—the house with six steps
and disreputable linoleum—where my uncle surprised nobody by three palpably intentional revokes in the hideous cardroom, which, as I told my hostess, reminded me of a tenth-rate night club. And a hunt-the-slipper do at the flat in Curzon-place, which the rivus star of the hour has furnished regardless of cost on the furnish-out-of-somebody-else's-income system.

I should not be surprised to hear
that Sir Jimmie and Lady Geo-
Goo have made a match of it.
They are both bright young things,
and I noticed that whichever held
the slipper the other always found it.

Above I show you three reigning beauties whose one bitterness
in their saccharine lives is a turned up nose. I asked Susan Lawgrass if hers had anything to do with the size of the settlement
she made on Lawgrass when she married him. She snorted an indignant denial (it's so easy to snort if you're definitely retrosus-sée), and said it was an asset,
not a liability, because it came down to her from George the First's Prime Minister, which proved the Barony did not come out of the Lloyd George Fund.

Dolly Marchjambé—whom I remember 20 years ago at the Gaiety—having paid a premium to atone for her lack of talent—cooed
that her Billy adored hers; it variegated the dull splendour of an otherwise flawless perfection.
Lady Jane confessed to undergoing an operation before the wedding—a chaplet on the altar of her devotion to Freddie; but, as you see, it is still turned up and now has also a hump on the bridge.

A funny thing has just happened to me. One of my recent hostesses, whose party I honestly described as being excruciatingly
boreome, cut me in Bond-street.

HANOVER TO ROME.

LADY JOURNALIST'S LONG WALK.

Rome. — A Norwegian lady
journalist, Miss Alfhild Hordan,
who had come on foot from Han-
over to Rome in forty-eight days,
wandered into the Piazza di Spagna one morning fresh and happy, in spite of her long journey.

Italian Journalists examined her with wondering eyes. She had on her feet a light pair of shoes, and was clad in long, flowing fluffy trousers, like those of the once famous Algerian Zouaves, and a Gaucho jacket, together with a broad Mexican hat.
Miss Hordan smiled, and said she had enjoyed her walk through different countries. She wanted to give men journalists a lesson.
Why should they travel in motor-cars or comfortable trains and sleep in fine hotels, stay in newspaper offices, and get second-hand
news over the phone? The journalism of the future meant that journalists would have to learn again, and see things with their own eyes, wander about the country, and sleep in haystacks or village inns, as she has done.

The Roman journalists noted down her remarks, and wandered back to their usual cafes to discuss the new ideas of the Norwegian lady journalist. None of them has yet decided to follow her advice.

BALLET GIRLS.

BISHOP WARNS THOSE GOING ABROAD.

The Bishop of Fulham, who was recently appointed to supervise the work of Church of England chaplains in Northern and Central Europe, speaking at Norwich, warned English girls not to work in Continental ballets and cabarets.

"A body of people who gave us
some anxiety," he said, "are the large numbers of English dancing girls on the Continent. Wherever you go, you will find ballet troupes,
cabarets, and music-halls are British."

"I do not know whether you have read the League of Nations report on the white slave traffic. It is the most horrible indictment of humanity. There you will find some of the dangers with which these girls are faced."

"I always do my best to dissuade
girls from entering the profession,"
added the bishop. "Some I know
do it from a high motive. One girl whom I confirmed did so in order to provide education for her young brother, for which she was responsible."

Dr. George Sellett, U.S. District
Attorney in the U.S. Court for China is expected to arrive in Shanghai on board the "President Grant" on September 11. It will be recalled that Dr. Sellett went to America some time ago to conduct the prosecution in the Hussar-Heath appeals in the American federal courts.

As I'm very fond of her brother
I explained that of course I didn't mean it, but that I have to write this kind of thing for the "Hand Glass," and having a handle to my name I must use it to draw groans
from my journalistic hurdy gurdy.
How thin skinned people are getting! Anyone would think there had never been a war—"Morning Post" (London).

OPEN-AIR CONCERT AND DANCE. — The second open-air concert and dance of the St. Joseph's Catholic Association was held on the club grounds when the Shanghai Municipal Orchestra rendered a very excellent concert. Following the success of the first concert, a large number of members and their friends attended to enjoy a pleasant evening. — (A.P. Hong)

LAST SAILING SHIP.

The "Garthpool," the only sailing ship now flying the red ensign, is expected from Australia with 4,500 tons of wheat. She has had a good voyage, as she had going out, when for ten consecutive days between the Cape and Australia she did eleven knots a day, and for two days thirteen knots. There is some speculation as to the future of this four-masted barque. If the profit she earned was the sole consideration, she would soon be in foreign keeping, like others of her class, but Sir William Garthwaite, her owner, has a sentimental regard for her, and is averse from seeing Britain lose her last deep-sea sailing vessel. He hopes she will develop as a trading ship.

In Germany, where training under sail is still necessary for all ships' officers, the Deutsche Seeschiffverrein is equipping a four-masted barque to accommodate 30 cadets. Here there is a difference of opinion as to sail training, but the experience is still a necessary qualification for a Trinity House pilot or a harbour master, and many young men are still keen on it. The "Garthpool" has already a dozen cadets, and many more are joining her for her next voyage.

YANGTZE COLLISION.

CHINESE CAPTAIN'S STORY OF 300 LIVES LOST.

SHANGHAI INQUIRY.

Sitting in the Council Chamber of the S.M.C. Administration Building, recently, Messrs. R. G. McDonald (referee), S. Fessenden, W. P. Hunt, R. Tippet, and M. Umetsu (arbitrators) continued the inquiry regarding the sinking of the str. "Hsin Dah Ming" after a collision with the "Atsuta Maru." Mr. H. D. Rodger represented the Chinese firm and Mr. M. Reader Harris the Japanese.

Capt. Ho Hung-yao, of the "Hsin Dah Ming," was further cross-examined by Mr. Harris. He said he first saw the "Atsuta's" mast light 2 1/4 miles away. She was two points on the port bow. He steamed for 6 minutes on the same course, then blew one blast and changed his course a half-point to starboard. The relative bearing remained two points and the ships were 1 1/2 miles apart. He continued for 2 minutes, blew another blast and again changed a half-point to starboard, the other ship still being two points off his port bow. He sailed for another two or three minutes, when the "Atsuta's" green light disappeared and he thought everything was all right. In another 2 minutes both lights again appeared, where the ships were three-quarters of a mile apart.

Three Hundred Lives Lost.
His ship had a licence to carry 750 passengers. The crew consisted of 160 all told.

Mr. Harris—What do you think was the motive for the Japanese vessel steaming away for 20 or 25 minutes after the collision?

Witness—My opinion was that she tried to escape, and, if nobody had seen her, she might have gone back to Japan.

Re-examined—About 300 lives were lost.

Mr. Rodger—Did you at any time attempt to cross the other ship's bows?

Witness—Am I going to commit suicide?

Chinese ships, witness said, did not go up the middle of the river, as the current was fast and difficult to navigate. Japanese ships might try it. (Laughter).

Answering the Court, witness said the "Atsuta" was going at full speed at the time of the collision. Mast-head lights were visible for five miles and side lights for two miles.

Cost of Replacement.

Mr. J. G. B. Dewar, naval architect in the employ of the Kiangnan Dock, said his firm quoted Tls. 273,000 for a vessel to replace the "Hsin Dah Ming" or Tls. 271,000 for a single screw vessel. Without engines and boilers, the price would be roughly Tls. 200,000. There would be a further reduction of 3 or 4 per cent. for a lesser quality of steel.

Asked the average life of a river steamer, witness said he knew boats still working that were 40 years old, but they were built at home. He would consider a China-built ship should last 30 years. A ship did not deteriorate much in ten years. He would not write off anything in the first year.

Capt. R. M. Wallace, a Yangtze pilot for 20 years, marked on the chart up and down courses in the vicinity of where the collision occurred.

Cross-examined:—The whole of the Yangtze was a narrow channel. He admitted variations between the courses he had plotted and others shown to him by Mr. Harris, but there might be differences in the dates of the charts; also, the one he had marked was a small scale.

Answering the Court—In a crossing, a ship which had another on her starboard hand must give way. At the scene of collision the channel was from bank to bank.

An employee of the Chinese Revenue service, gave some technical evidence on winds and tides and also plotted up and down courses. He emphasised the constantly changing nature of the Yangtze and said it was essential for ships always to keep to their own right side.

Witness said that a chart issued in 1925, the first from the Chinese Hydrographic Department, was the first really good one they had ever had. There had been earlier charts, but more reliance was placed on local knowledge. Pilots passed on information from one to another, and, though ships sometimes stuck in mud, navigation was managed quite well.

The hearing was adjourned.

ON HUMBER.

THE LOCAL SHIPBROKERS' ASSOCIATION.

A YEAR'S ACTIVITIES.

The tenth annual report of the Humber District Association of Chartered Shipbrokers states that a close watch has been kept by the council upon matters relating to the well-being of the shipbroking profession, and careful attention has been given from time to time upon subjects dealing with the Humber ports and shipping generally. There has, as usual, been close collaboration with the Chamber of Shipping and other bodies, and members of the council are closely associated with the Joint Dock Standing and other committees connected with the Chamber of Shipping, and useful service has been rendered in these directions. There has also been co-operation with the dock authorities, Humber Timber Trades Federation, the coal exporters, and other bodies upon various matters.

Very special attention has been given to the provision of further facilities in connection with the timber discharge at Hull, and this matter is still engaging close attention. Progress is slow, but the council hopes that ultimately good results will accrue. In this connection the association has closely co-operated with the Chamber of Shipping and Humber Timber Trades Federation in their joint efforts to prevail upon the dock authorities to do something tangible in the provision of additional facilities, etc.

The position with regard to the coal export trade is well known to members, the export from the Humber having fallen to a low ebb. It is to be earnestly hoped that the coal marketing scheme, which was inaugurated a few months ago, will help towards a restoration of this important trade.

Port Congestion.

There has been unavoidable fluctuation in the membership owing to death, removals of members to other districts, and other causes, but the total membership stands at 126, as against 129 for the previous year, which under the existing circumstances is satisfactory. Reference to the balance-sheet shows that on December 31, 1927, the balance in hand is £745.

In further reference to timber congestion at the port, it is stated that at the present moment negotiations are proceeding between the Hull Corporation and the London and North-Eastern Railway Company with regard to the possible utilisation of the Western Reservation. It is felt that if something could be done in this direction it would probably go a long way towards relieving congestion during the busy import season, and it is to be hoped that some good will accrue as a result of these negotiations.

Pressure has been brought upon the dock authorities by the shipping interests with a view to obtaining the provision of more S.S. accommodation and extension of facilities in the King George Dock.

Fire Risks.

A scheme has been promulgated with a view to the prevention of smoking on the docks in order to minimise the risks of fire.

Several conferences were held with the shipping authorities and tug-owners, at which the association was represented, with a view to obtaining reductions in the tariff. Although so far no

MOSCOW'S RENEWED ACTIVITIES.

There is plenty of evidence accumulating that of late there has been increased activity on the part of the Moscow propagandists
of their fantastic doctrine of Bolshevism, by which, perhaps it is as well to recall, all are to be equal, all are to have the same opportunities in everything; and in which there is to be no property, everything is to belong to the State, not for the use of any class or for anybody in particular —just for all. The craziness of this fanciful creed is the only interesting thing about it, except that there must be a certain amount of interest due to those who are benighted enough not only to accept such an absurd
doctrine but to devote a considerable amount of their energy and wealth in its propagation. Only a nation such as the Russians
would regard it seriously, for they, unfortunately, were and still largely are a nation that is by no means in the front.
And it is by such as they that we, forsooth, are asked to be guided in so serious a matter as our political and economic welfare. There will, of course, always be in any country a large number of thoughtless, improvid-ent and hopelessly unbalanced
people ready to listen to such fanciful nonsense as that which emanates from the Bolsheviks.

Several news items to hand
show clearly that the Moscow Soviet is as active as ever, even more active, it would appear, because of the many set-backs that have been meted out to them
wherever they have dared to act too openly. In England we found that we had been tolerant too long

of the unscrupulous methods of the Soviet and their unscrupulous agents and ultimately gave them their quietus effectually. The Americans from the first, to their credit, have had nothing
whatever to do with the Soviet.
France makes short work of
"Red" propaganda of any kind,
and Germany is equally alive to Bolshevism's danger and absurdities. Even China ultimately saw the dangers that lay ahead
of the spread of this so-called Communism, which for a time attracted some of those under the influence of Borodin's gold and fascinated many of the eager
and thoughtless among the students. Japan, too, has made it clear that such a doctrine must not be permitted to pollute the even tenor of the lives of their countrymen. In fact, it is now realized that Soviet agents must be distrusted at all times and in all circumstances. They are the essence of destructiveness, the iconoclasts and vandals in all walks of life, the filchers of all that is worth having by honest and decent-minded people. What can sensible folk of any country
want with this ludicrous idea of
"equality for all" when to the shallowest intelligence it must be evident that there can be no such equality. For the uplifting of a nation as a whole there can be only patient and persevering
evolution in an orderly manner
and through the usual institutions of the State. One of the latest pieces of news is quoted from the Soviet newspaper "Pravda,"
which publishes a long list of fresh "instructions" from the Moscow leaders. Who are they
that they should have the audacity to dictate to others apart
from their own backward countrymen? Moscow at present
seems to be bent upon undermining the loyalty of the armies and navies of as many countries as they can get in touch with. A Soviet training ship has just been compelled to leave Swedish waters immediately in consequence of their pernicious propaganda. Elsewhere Soviet activities are making themselves
evident, and the fiat has now gone forth from Moscow that it is "the young" and even those "at special attention" those and the supposed "discontented" in the army and navy of all countries.
For what purpose? So that they may influence their country and countrymen to be as are the Russians of to-day!

The conceit of the Soviet must be colossal when they imagine that the world in general should be like unto them! Have they nothing better to do with their surplus gold? There is plenty of propaganda of the right sort needed throughout the length and breadth of Russia. If the Moscow Soviet were not so persistent

they might safely be ignored;
but such persistence must be rigorously dealt with, and the sooner the better for the world
generally will it be when this is more clearly realized than it appears to be at present. The Russians, under the Soviet, are a much-misguided people, a people
new to liberty and prone, in consequence, to abuse their privileges. They are confounding liberty with licence and instead of building upon moral foundations
and with a regard for the rights of all classes, they are seeking to raise the so-called working class at the expense of all others. The flagrant injustice of this may dawn upon the Soviet some day,
but meantime they seem a long way from that reasonable state of mind.

Work for Police Reservists.

We commend to the notice of our readers the announcement
issued yesterday by the Captain Superintendent of Police regarding the employment of members of the Police Reserve in the event of a casual disturbance or state of emergency. This action, in our opinion, was the result of a happy thought and should do much to keep the Reservists as a whole from growing "rusty." As it is there is nothing for them to do. Squad drill, rifle and revolver practices and instructional patrols
become wearisome after a while,
particularly during the hot weather and interest in the movement is apt, in consequence, to lapse. Now, however, the Reservist knows that there are occasions—happily few and far between—when he may serve towards a useful and definite end,
and so will his enthusiasm be maintained.

The forthcoming marriage is announced of Mr. F. A. V. Ribeiro, of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., and Mrs. E. M. H. Brito, of
No. 5, Cambay-building, Kowloon.

A fine of $5 was imposed this morning on the master of a cargo boat for mooring his boat outside
five others alongside the s.s. "Nam Sang" on August 25.

A fire broke out in Tai-ping-street, Tai-O village at 3.45 p.m., yesterday, resulting in two mat-
sheds being gutted and two others damaged by the flames. The total damage suffered was $330.

Mr. A. R. Forbes, one of the oldest members of the Victoria Recreation Club, left the Colony to-day by the "Empress of Asia" for Manila,
to take up the position of assistant superintendent of a sugar refinery
at Victoria, Negros Island. Mr.
Forbes came to Hong Kong in 1888
and then went home, returning in 1910 to join the China Sugar Refining Co. working until the refinery
was closed a few months ago.

At about 3.30 this morning a thief broke the show window of a Japanese jewellery shop at No. 18,
Praya East and stole six gold rings worth $240. The proprietor, named Madono, who was sleeping in the shop, was awakened by the noise of breaking glass and immediately
rushed out. He succeeded in seizing the thief, but was forced to release his hold when the latter cut
him in the arm with some sharp instrument. The thief escaped.

At the Marine Court this morning, there were no fewer than six hotel runners before Commander J.
B. Newell, D.S.O., R.N., on a charge of boarding the s.s.
"Empress of Asia" without permission on September 4. The defendants pleaded "guilty." Mr.
C. A. Stirling, prosecuting, told the Court that baggage had frequently been lost and the officers have frequently warned these men not to come aboard. The defendants were each fined $25 or in default one month's hard labour.

Twenty-eight former employees of
the Ming Yuen Gardens, North Point, which was recently closed down, this morning summoned before Mr. R. E. Lindell, a Chinese named Leung Sik-pan, who was described as a director of the Gardens.
The complainants claimed wages
totalling $789.20. Mr. J. M.
d'Almeida Brookes, for the defence,
denied that Leung was a director of the Gardens, and in support of his claim said that he had been to the Registrar's Office to examine the list of directors, and Leung's name did not appear in the list. The case was fixed for 12.30 a.m. next Monday.

TRADE UNIONS.

PURGING THE "RED" ELEMENT FROM THEIR MIDST.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

London, Yesterday.
The problem of excluding the "Reds" is attracting all the other workers and is being keenly debated by the Trade Union Congress at Swansea, who have adopted a resolution instructing the Council to take steps to purge the movement of the Communist element and launch a campaign to organise the young workers into unions at a lower rate of contribution to form a committee to consider the reduction of the number of Trade Unions and to increase the number of trade unionists.—Reuter.

UNEMPLOYED.

INCREASED FIGURES IN ENGLAND.

London, Yesterday.
After showing a slight decrease
in the last weekly return, unemployment is again on the increase. To-day's return gives the number of workless as 1,320, 000, which is 11,840 more than a week before and 270,739 more than a year ago.—British Wireless Service.

"SET OF RASCALS."

SEVERELY SENTENCED AT KOWLOON COURT.

"The boys have been brought to the station, and I have on more than one occasion thrashed them
with the consent of their parents."
Thus said Sub-Inspector James
when addressing Mr. W. Schofield, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, with regard to three Chinese boys who stood in the dock
on a charge of larceny. The fourth lad, aged 17 years, appeared on a charge of receiving stolen property.
The alleged theft took place at the St. Mary's School Chatham-road, Kowloon. Evidently arranged beforehand, two of the lads gained admittance into the school by the kitchen window, while one of them stood guard outside. They stole a clock.

The bigger lad charged with receiving the clock, said that he had bought it from the third defendant
for 40 cents.

His Worship expressed surprise
at the price said, as the clock was valued at $7.50. The defendant then answered that the clock was out of order.

Sub-Inspector James said that the lads were a set of rascals.
Many a time he had given the three smaller lads a thrashing with
the permission of their parents.
One of them had already a previous conviction for larceny. He asked the magistrate to take a serious
view of the case.

The youth of 17 was sentenced to 3 months' hard labour, the first and second of the smaller lads were ordered to have 12 strokes of the birch and, if unfit, 6 weeks' hard labour, while the third defendant,
who was the youngest, was sentenced to 6 strokes or 3 weeks' imprisonment.

A "VIOLENT PERSON."

A young Russian named Isaak Abramovich Ekman, who was yesterday remanded by Major C.
Willson, O.B.E., on a charge of vagrancy was again before the Court this morning.

Sub-Inspector Elston told the Magistrate that Ekman had strange political views and was a very violent person. In the circumstances, the police did not consider it advisable to commit
him to the House of Detention.

In any case, the Inspector added, the police have an expulsion
order against Ekman, and as under this order the police had power to detain him pending
arrangements to send him out of the Colony, the Magistrate was asked to discharge Ekman on the charge of vagrancy.

His Worship, in granting the police application, explained to Ekman that he would be deported from Hong Kong.

The Russian Cultural Association
recently sent to the Soviet Embassy, Tokyo, about 10,000
books on politics, economics, medicine, art, etc., for the reconstitu-
tion of the libraries in Tokyo,
which suffered in the Kwanto earthquake. It is understood that 6,718 of the books will be contributed to the Tokyo Imperial Library, 1,099 to Waseda, 99 to the Tokyo School of Foreign Languages in memory of the late Mr.
Futabata Shimei, who first introduced Russian literature to Japan,
and 140 others relating to art to the Academy of Art at Deno.
There must be a considerable danger, says the "Japan Chronicle,"
of some "thought" or "even an idea" finding its way in among all these volumes.

P'RAPS-P'RAPS NOT!

Judge: "Have you ever been in trouble before?"
Prisoner: "Well, I—er—kept a library book too long once, and was fined threepence."

"Oh!" she said, "the way you behave is enough to make an angel
weep."

"I don't see you shedding any tears," he retorted, and saved the day.

Smart: "For thrifty Scotmen, I think M'Laren takes the bun."

Bright: "Why, what's the latest
about him?"

Smart: "Well, a pal of his sent him a pair of spats for a birthday,
present, and he sent them to the cobblers to be soled and heeled."

"How do you do, my dear?" said
the dignified old lady to the shy
little girl.

"Quite well, thank you," replied
the child politely.

There was a pause, then—"Why don't you ask me how I am?" asked the lady.

"Because I don't want to know,"
was the reply.

The brewers of a new ale, in order that the brand might become popular, advertised that one free
drink would be given to each person
who applied for it between specified hours at a certain bar. A Scotsman, hearing about this free treat, gathered a dozen friends, to whom he owed numerous drinks, and leading the crowd into the bar announced loudly: "Now, boys, you'll all have this one with me."

There had been a terrific struggle
in front of goal, and it appeared that the ball had crossed the line.

The nervous little referee gave a faint toot with his whistle, and murmured, "Goal!"

Instantly he was surrounded by a group of protesting defenders.

"Did you say, 'Goal'?" bellowed a huge back, as he flourished a ham-
like fist.

"Certainly not," stammered the referee, "I said 'Goal.' Some one has just struck me with a piece."

"How was the scenery on your trip?"

"It ran largely to tooth-paste and smoking tobacco."

"Bus Driver (to driver of growler): 'Nah, then! Look where you're coming to with that old rabbit 'utch!'"

Indignant Fare: "Curb your rude tongue, my man!"

"Bus Driver: 'Ulllo, bunny, are you there too?'"

Said a fond mother to another woman as they gazed at their respective children playing cricket in a meadow beyond their gardens:—
"Yus, ev'ry Saturday when 'e was playin' football 'e wore 'is father's pyjama jacket, an' now 'e's umpire
if 'e ain't gone an' sneaked off with the lodger's nightshirt!"

The Servant (in a registry office): "How many are there in your family?"

The Lady: "Three."

Servant: "What are the wages?"

Lady: "Twenty pounds."

The Servant: "And whereabouts
do you live?"

Lady (sarcastically): "Oh, don't bother about that; we'll move anywhere you wish."

A doctor said to a patient: "If
this doesn't cure you, come back,
and I'll give you something that will." Patient: "Couldn't you give it to me now, doctor?"

Answer The "China
Mail" Questions.

TO-DAY'S POSERS.

From day to day a series of half-
a dozen questions, not tremendously
difficult to answer but not always
so simply solved as may be thought, appear on this page. These, as in the past, are compiled by the
"China Mail" staff and include from time to time questions of local interest. Answers are given on Page seven.

1. When did the Emperor Hien Feng die?
2. How long did the war between China and France last?
3. When was the Suez Canal opened?
4. Who was the instigator of the Hong Kong University?
5. When was Mr. Wei Yuk created a Knight?
6. When was the Post Office transferred to the local government?

"SQUEAMISH AGE."LORD BIRKENHEAD'S BITTER TONGUE.*A SWASHBUCKLER.

This is a dismally squeamish age, in which the art of manly invective and masculine vituperation has been emasculated by mealy-mouthed courtesy and cowardly urbanity. Our public life is drab and dull because we are afraid to give and take the hard blows that shatter apathy and demolish indifference.

Therefore I scornfully decline to swell the chorus of Heeps and Pecksniffs who groan over the polished truculence of Lord Birkenhead, writes James Douglas in the "Sunday Express." The truth is that we all secretly gloat over his flouts and gibes and jeers.

They rend the leaden sky like forked lightning. Even the quivering victims who are struck by them benefit by the rude shock.

It is good to be electrocuted now and then, and Lord Birkenhead is the most deadly electrocutionist in politics or out of it. He is like a live rail on which it is dangerous to tread. The faintest provocation taps his highest voltage.

"SLUM PUBS."

The House of Lords recently was somnolently listening to a dreary debate on the Liquor (Disinterested Ownership and Management) Bill. Lord Buckmaster innocently quoted an allusion by Lord Balfour of Burleigh to "slum pubs." "Slum pubs?" cried Lord Birkenhead. "Slum pubs," repeated Lord Buckmaster.

"What is a 'pub'?" blandly inquired Lord Birkenhead. Lord Buckmaster retorted, "Oh, well, if the noble earl does not know what a 'pub' is, he can hardly expect me to instruct him."

Whereupon Lord Birkenhead rebuked him for inviting the Lord to "descend to the nomenclature of the gutter," and advised him not to "borrow from the ebullitions of younger peers which add little to the dignity of this House."

He then poured a flood of daringly irrelevant irony on Lord Buckmaster's "personal perambulations" and "promenades" in the vicinity of "slum pubs," and maliciously suggested that, after all, they could "only be an episode in his life."

I like Birkenheadese. It revives my jaded interest in party politics. Hard words break no bones, and they dissipate the lethargy of the electorate. They shock us into at least momentary attention.

INSOLENCE AND INSULT.

I am all for a revival of political insolence and insult. In the grand old days of the Grand Old Man, Disraeli execrated Gladstone as a "sophisticated rhetorician intoxicated with the exuberance of his own verbosity."

To go further back, Daniel O'Connell derided "Dizzy" as "the lineal descendant of the impudent thief." And not so long ago Mr. Healy earned the sobriquet of "Tiger Tim" by the venom of his terrible tongue.

Lord Birkenhead almost alone preserves the good old English tradition of verbal swash-buckling, though now and then Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Churchill vie with him in the noble art of polemical pugilism or what used to be known as Limehousing.

I wish Lord Birkenhead could be provided with foes worthy of his steel. It is not fair to throw upon him the whole burden of diverting the gaze of the new voters from Wimbledon tennis and greyhound racing to the graver issues of our national life. Goliath needs a David to attract a gate. Perhaps our only David will come to his aid.

Lord Birkenhead should not be driven to use the bludgeon on placable men of straw like Lord Arnold, who, he declared in the House of Lords, had never produced evidence that he was capable of making ten dollars in Wall Street. This blow below the belt maddened the elephantine Lord Haldane into cumbrously comparing Lord Birkenhead to "one of those strange animals at the Zoo which are obviously out of their natural element on the bench on which they sit."

On another occasion Lord Birkenhead (then out of office) lashed Lord Salisbury and Lord Selborne with contemptuous sarcasm. "I will not say that they were the twin brothers of the movement (for reforming the House of Lords). They were the Dolly Sisters."

When Lord Birkenhead (then Mr. E. E. Smith) was contesting the Southport Division, he thus described his opponent:

"I have seen a photograph of Mr. Woodcock, and I have never seen anything like it. In my life I think he should have found a place in a menagerie. I would not trust Mr. Woodcock with a flea if I had one."

This is not perhaps "the nomenclature of the gutter," but it is the son of full-blooded invective that would be understood even in those "slum pubs" of which the noble earl has happily never heard. It brings dry-as-dust dialectics home to the business and the bosom of the man in the street and the woman in the street.

REAL AND SHAM FIGHTS.

After all, we are a nation of sportsmen and sportswomen. We delight in many varieties of blood sports, from fox hunting and stag hunting down to other hunting and coursing.

We glory in the fierce rivalry of the ring. Some of us furtively indulge in the illegal pastime of cock fighting with bantams armed with steel spurs.

If our men of light and leading desire to overcome the bored indifference of our unwieldy electorate they must stage real fights instead of sham fights. They must emulate the lusty arrogance and robust effrontery of Lord Birkenhead. They must wear a front of brass and employ a tongue of poison.

I know many intellectuals who envy his monopoly of the lime-light. They grieve over their inability to furnish "Low" with material for his cruel caricatures. They sigh for the nimble he weaves daily round "Lord Burstinghead" and "Jix" and Mr. Baldwin.

But they lack the courage to make themselves caricaturable. They are wanting in the wit to invent a trademark like the Baldwin briar or the Birkenhead cigar or the Winston hattery or the Chamberlain monocle or the Georgian eyebrow.

In short, they do not possess either first-class brains or first-class cheek. I admire Lord Birkenhead's unmeasured contempt for his adversaries. But I deplore his undisputed sovereignty in savage satire and lethal sword play.

There is a danger that his offensive powers may languish through paucity of practice. He may, like many old champions, grow fat and inefficient, though I am sure he will never fall so low as to become, like them, the land-lord of a "slum pub" or a pensioner on bibulous idleness.

And let those who decry his displays of slogging on the ground that they are not dignified face the astounding fact that he is a master of dignity as well as of dignity. Let them ponder over the versatility of the virtuoso who can pass from the depths of Bill-can pass from the depths of grave ingenuity to the heights of argument, eloquence and subtle argument, delighting the lowbrow, the middle-brow, and the high-brow with equal facility.

He may be Satanic. He may be diabolical. He may be brutal. But at least he imports into the dreary and dusty wastes of controversy the ferocity of the tiger and the voracity of the vulture.

He may be ferine, but he provides dangerous sport for the bold big-game hunter who is willing to face his tearing teeth, or his charging tusks in the jungle of politics.

ELECTRIC FISH.WHAT DOES IT EAT? A MYSTERY.

Plymouth.—A torpedo that was hauled out of the bay here by Dr. E. J. Allen, the director of the Marine Biological Association of the Institute, is now being carefully tended in the Aquarium on the Hoe.

It is not the death-dealing high explosive weapon used by warships. It is an enormous flat fish resembling a skate or ray. Its peculiarity is that it gives off electric shocks from its black back.

This fish is a rare capture in English waters. Dr. Allen does not remember one having been caught here for more than 20 years.

The torpedo has been placed in a glass tank with a number of other fish. But tasty crabs, scudulent worms, and choice bits from the sea bed have failed to make it eat. The torpedo has been on hunger strike ever since it was caught. It has a body 2 ft. 6 in. long by 2 ft. 6 in. across and a long tail.

"We may learn a great deal from this torpedo," said Dr. Allen, "providing we can keep it alive by making it eat. The torpedo may use its electric shocks as a means of stunning its prey or as a means of defence. We do not know what it eats."

For mooring their boats at less than 100 yards from the low water mark between the hours of 9 p.m. and 5 a.m. on September 3, the master and mistress of two cargo boats were each fined $10 this morning.

The Shanghai and Woosung Bureau of Reconstruction are establishing a wireless school in Nantao, which will be opened this month for the training of operators.

WORLD GYMNASTS.COLOGNE'S OVER-BURGO MASTER'S APPEAL.*GERMANY'S "BONDAGE."

Cologne, July 24. Cologne is in gala robes such as it has not worn since pre-war days on the occasion of royal visits. But to-day the decorations, although most extensive in the centre of the city, are general. Every suburb is gay with red and white bunting (the city colours) and with flags as a welcome to 200,000 athletes who are assembling here for the 14th German Athletic Meeting (Deutsches Turnfest), writes a correspondent to the "Manchester Guardian."

Not only from all parts of Germany, but from all parts of the world, gymnasts of German nationality are concentrating on Cologne, and by to-morrow the majority of the 200,000 will have arrived. The majority will sleep in mass quarters—schools, public halls, etc., but the older athletes and some others are billeted upon the inhabitants, as in the war days.

Last night about 1,000 of the German-American contingent (they will muster 3,000 in all) were given a civic reception at the beautiful old Guezenich. In his speech of welcome the Over-Burgomaster said: "You are good citizens of your country, but your hearts are in the land of your birth. We remember how during the war you helped us as far as you could. The donations that you made to our shattered and half-starved country were valuable, but more valuable still were the loving thoughts that resulted in that generosity. During the period of the Turnfest you will have an opportunity of seeing us as we are, and I hope that you will take back with you the impression that the strength and will of Germany has not been and cannot be broken."

"Germany Not Released Yet." "But," added the Over-Burgomaster, "I ask you to keep your eyes open during your stay in Germany and during your tour through Europe, and not to judge only by what you see during the festival week. Germany has a very bad period behind it, but her trials are not yet over. She still carries heavy burdens enforced upon her, and suffers completely unarmed in the midst of a Europe bristling with weapons. I ask you, particularly you who are from the United States of America, to remember that Germany is not released yet. I believe that the duty of restoring peace to Europe has fallen upon your country. If you fulfil this duty, then America will stand high in the history of mankind, but if you fail in this, which none of us expect, then you, the only people that have emerged from world war unweakened, will have created an enormous responsibility for yourselves during the next century." This speech of Dr. Adenauer's was punctuated by loud applause from time to time.

The culminating point in the festival takes place next Sunday, when the 200,000 march in procession to the great Stadium here. From to-morrow onwards contests in all branches of athletics take place, and the winners will receive their prizes after the triumphal march on Sunday next.

CARLYLE MS.U.S. BOOKSELLER TO PRESENT IT TO BRITISH MUSEUM.

Mr. Gabriel Wells, the New York bookseller, is presenting one of the only two complete Carlyle manuscripts in existence to the British Museum.

Sotheby's chief room in Bond-street was uncomfortably filled when the two manuscripts were offered in one lot. One was the first draft of "Past and Present," and the other the manuscript used by the printer.

"Quaritch wants it for the British Museum," said Mr. Wells to a "Daily Mail" representative, "and I shall not bid against him over $500."

Three hundred pounds was the first offer, and in two minutes $2,000 was reached.

"Two thousand one hundred," said the auctioneer in response to a bid from Mr. Sawyer.

"Two thousand two hundred," replied Mr. Wells, and the hammer fell.

"Well," I will give one to the museum," said the victor. "It is open to them to select which one they require."

First prizes for gardens on the District Railway were awarded to Collector Bishop, Ealing Broadway Station, W., and Inspector Stevenson, Ealing Common.

The 2nd Highland Light Infantry has been presented with new colours by Field-Marshal Sir W. R. Birdwood, Commander-in-Chief, of the Indian Army.

"STOP THAT MAN."AN INTERESTING FAST-MOVING COMEDY.*AT THE QUEEN'S.

A fast-moving comedy packed with thrills, is being screened at the Queen's Theatre under the title "Stop That Man" for final performances to-day.

There is a speed and liveliness that compels the audience to be interested. Featuring the adventures of a young man whose one ambition is to become a policeman, the story leads the audience through one exciting and laughable incident to another, and ends in complete reunion of all concerned.

Arthur Lake plays the leading role splendidly, being mainly instrumental for the excitement of the piece. He has in support Barbara Kent, who plays a simple yet effective part. Walter McGrail as "Slippery Dick" Sylvaine enacts the role of "crook," which, in contrast to Eddie Gribbin and Warner Richmond who are "cops," lend much interest to a gripping theme.

Besides the main picture, "The Collegians" is screened, featuring George Lewis as an oarsman in an exciting inter college boat race.

A RE-HEARING.SENTENCE FOR "SNATCHING" QUASHED.

A re-hearing was granted by Major C. Willson, O.B.E., yesterday afternoon, of a case in which a Chinese was sentenced to six months' hard labour and 12 strokes of the birch for "snatching."

When the accused was sentenced last week, he was not legally represented, and the application for a re-hearing of the case was made by Mr. C. A. S. Russ.

The alleged offence for which the prisoner received the above sentence was stated to have occurred in Morrison-street in August, when, not satisfied with snatching a pair of jade earrings from a Chinese woman, the prisoner was alleged to have hit the victim on the head with a piece of wood, rendering her unconscious.

Mr. Russ yesterday called witnesses for the defence. Amongst these was a Chinese who said that he had been for 21 years in business in Hong Kong and was the master of the Hop Cheong Lee wood shop of Bird-street. He claimed to have been an eye-witness of what occurred on the day in question.

According to the witness it was raining and the street was slippery. This caused the accused accidentally to jostle the complainant and another woman. They abused him and struck him with their umbrellas and a piece of board. Accused snatched the board away from one of the women and struck her with it causing her head to bleed. She called out "Save life" when the accused bolted, but was eventually caught by the women at a stall near by.

The witness was emphatic that there was no snatching from the complainant at all.

After defendant and another witness had given evidence, his Worship decided to discharge the defendant, remarking that if the accused had been guilty it was improbable that he would remain near the spot.

MOTOR CAR CLAIM.

The Summary Court case in which Mr. Wong Man-tat of No. 35, Eastern-street, sued Mr. Lo Yin, of the compradore department, Messrs. Gilman & Co., Ltd., for $1,000 in connection with the alleged "conversion" of an Overland Whippet five-seater car, ended abruptly yesterday.

After plaintiff had completed his evidence, the Judge (Mr. Justice P. Jackson) did not call on the defence. He gave judgment for defendant with costs on the claim, but ordered defendant to pay plaintiff's costs, excluding costs of the hearing. Defendant's counsel claim of $500 was withdrawn.

Mr. Fred X. d'Amada was for plaintiff and Mr. C. A. S. Russ for defendant.

CAUSEWAY BAY.

OFFICIAL VIEWS ON CLAM DIGGING.

ATMOSPHERIC POLLUTION.

That clam-digging at low tide on the mud of Causeway Bay is not illegal was stated by the Chairman at yesterday's meeting of the Sanitary Board. It was added, however, that no evidence can be obtained of such shellfish being sold, in the markets. The offensive smells of the locality are considered undesirable and indicative of atmospheric pollution.

Pursuant to notice, Mr. J. P. Braga had asked a series of questions. The replies were given by Mr. W. J. Carrie (President of the Board). These were as follow:—
Question:—Are periodical inspections made by any officer of the Sanitary Department of the condition of Causeway Bay typhoon shelter at low tide? If such inspections have been carried out, will the President report to the Board the results thereof?

Reply:—The answer to the first question is in the negative and the second question does not therefore arise.

Question:—Is the President aware that at certain states of the tide the offensive emanations from the silted condition of the shelter are a source of considerable annoyance to residents in the vicinity of Causeway Bay?

Reply:—No...compliments have been received by this Department.

Question:—Will the Medical Officer of Health state whether the accumulation of noxious silt within the shelter constitutes any present or potential danger to the health of the residents referred to?

Reply:—Medical opinion does not consider that offensive smells, as such, can cause disease. Such smells are, however, an indication of atmospheric pollution with gases which in a concentrated form are dangerous to health. It is improbable that the amount of such gases in the atmosphere in the area in question is such as to cause a danger to health. It is, however, undesirable.

Like Raw Oysters.

Question:—Has it been brought to the notice of the Medical Officer of Health that, at low tide, a number of women and children dig for clams in the polluted ground, and will the President state what is the destination of these edibles dug up from ground obviously contaminated with sewage discharge?

Reply:—The Medical Officer of Health has seen the practice take place here and elsewhere on the foreshores of the Colony. The practice is not illegal. It is believed that these shell-fish are consumed chiefly by those who catch them or are used as bait by fishermen.

Question:—If the clams are sold in the markets or otherwise find their way for human consumption, is the health of those partaking of this food in any way endangered?

Reply:—No evidence can be obtained that these shell-fish are exposed for sale in the public markets of the Colony. It is improbable that there is any danger in the eating of them if they are thoroughly cooked. If on the other hand, they are eaten raw, they will no doubt be as dangerous as raw oysters from a polluted source, which, as is well known, have been the source of many epidemics of enteric fever.

Typhoon Shelter.

Question:—Has the Government any intention of dredging Causeway Bay, if not, why not?

Reply:—This question has been referred to the Public Works Department and the Director reports as follows:—The siltling up at the nullah outlets in Causeway Bay typhoon shelter with what is principally sand will as usual be cleared as soon as the Government Grab Dredger is available for this work. It is not considered, however, that the existing shallow depths prejudice the usefulness of the shelter for small craft during typhoon weather. Provision for additional dredging plant has been made in the Estimates for 1928 and arrangements for obtaining it are in hand.

WALKING THE BEARS.

Master "Kawin" and Miss "Niche" photographed near the Windsor Station in Montreal with their mistress Mrs. E. Roncarelli, who is having to Marquis de Pinedo, the famous Italian round-the-world flier. They form a "No Good" combination. "Kawin" meaning "No" and "Niche" meaning "Good" in Indian dialect. Needless to say, the latter is the lady bear cub with a sunny disposition, and the former a young gentleman with a rather bad temper at times. They were obtained by the General Tourist Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway from Fred Arnott who captured them in the Lake Temiskaming district. The two bear cubs are being sent over to Italy, where they will be met by Pinedo in his plane, and flown to their new home.

CHINESE "DAIRY."

SANITARY BOARD VIEWS ON LICENSING.

CLEANLINESS ESSENTIAL.

After discussion, permission was given yesterday, at the meeting of the Sanitary Board, to register a Chinese dairy at No. 58, Percival-street, ground floor.

Those present were Mr. W. J. Carrie (Head of the Sanitary Department, President), the Hon. Mr. H. T. Creasy, C.B.E. (Director of Public Works), the Hon. Mr. A. C. North (Secretary for Chinese Affairs), Dr. G. W. Pope (Medical Officer of Health), Colonel J. S. Bostock, C.B.E., R.A.M.C. (Senior Medical Officer, South China Command), Dr. S. W. Tso, O.B.E., LL.D., Dr. W. V. M. Koch, Dr. S. C. Ho, Mr. Wong Kwong-shin, Mr. J. F. Braga, Mr. J. Watson (Secretary).

Value of Milk.
The application had been deferred from a previous meeting so that applicant could clean his premises. Mr. Carrie said that this had been done fairly satisfactory.

Dr. Pope observed that he was not altogether satisfied.

Dr. Koch said he did not wish to prevent such dairies (in reality, shops where fresh milk can be sold) being scattered about the town as it is good for people to learn the value of milk. However, since the applicant had not taken sufficient pains even to satisfy the Medical Officer of Health, it showed he was careless.

Mr. Carrie revealed that a suggestion had been made in an old die that shops of the type referred to need not be registered. The milk to be sold will be obtained from registered dairies and the Department can inspect once a week. Accordingly, he proposed granting the application.

Dr. Tso seconded and the proposal was carried by five votes to four, two members refraining from voting.

Word has been received by the "Japan Advertiser" that Miss Alice Reifsnider, daughter of Bishop Charles S. Reifsnider, of the American Episcopal Church in Tokyo, has passed her entrance examinations into Vassar College with the exceptional average of 98 per cent. She has been a student at the Baldwin School, Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania. Bishop Reifsnider and his family are now in the United States on furlough.

Among the patients at the Country Hospital is Gen. Li Chung-jen, Commander-in-Chief of the 4th Group Army Hankow. The General is suffering with eye trouble.

Joanna made history when, to ordered the sun to stand still, but for no reason at all other than to please a little child, a cousin of one of the Canadian Pacific "White Empresses" of the Pacific took time by the forelock and preserved Christmas Day for little Gloria. The Canadian, seven-year-old daughter of Colonel L. Moore Cochrane, D.S.O., Canadian Trade Commissioner to Shanghai. At the age of two she was crossing the Pacific with her parents and it happened that when the International Date Line was reached, the day threatened to be summarily wiped off the calendar was Christmas. The Captain, however, knowing there was a child aboard, ordered the day to be preserved and the following day to be eliminated in its stead. A special time for Santa Claus was arranged in mid-Pacific for Gloria's benefit. She is shown on board the Canadian Pacific Atlantic liner "Empress of Australia" on her way to England and is the youngest of the passengers.

RINDERPEST.

GOVERNMENT'S REPLIES TO
MR. J. P. BRAGA.

INOCULATION SERUM.

Official replies to the questions asked by Mr. J. P. Braga were delivered by Mr. W. J. Carrie (Head of the Sanitary Department) at yesterday's meeting of the Sanitary Board, as follow:—

Question:—In view of an outbreak of rinderpest in the neighbourhood of the Colony, will the head of the Sanitary Department state:—

Whether any report has been received of any case of rinderpest occurring in Hong Kong or the New Territories during the month of August?

Reply:—No cases of rinderpest in Hong Kong or New Territories were reported during the month of August. As the Public Health and Building Ordinance does not apply to the New Territories, we would not usually hear of cases there except through the District Officer.

Question:—What measures, if any, have been taken to prevent the importation of the disease into the Colony?

Reply:—The by-laws dealing with the "Importation and landing of animals and mitigation and prevention of disease among animals" are strictly enforced. Incidentally the flow of trade in livestock is from Hong Kong to Macao.

"Always Present."

Question:—If there is an ample stock in the Colony of anti-rinderpest serum to cope effectively with an outbreak of the same cattle disease here should it unfortunately occur in epidemic form.

Reply:—The Sanitary Department does not undertake the treatment of animals and it does not, therefore, keep a stock of anti-rinderpest serum for inoculation purposes. Rinderpest is always present in the neighbourhood of the Colony to a greater or less degree and reliance is placed on the strict enforcement of the by-laws to prevent its introduction into the Colony and for dealing with an outbreak should it occur. It is incumbent on each cattle owner individually to take all precautions to protect his stock. This is done by the larger dairy owners by immunising their young stock and by reinforcing the immunity annually. It is inadvisable, however, to attempt to confer "active" immunity on adult animals as the inoculation of full grown cattle may produce the disease in a fatal form. "Passive" immunity can be conferred on such cattle by inoculation but this will last for some 14 days only. The serum is easily obtained from Shanghai, Manila, Indo-China or India, but loses its potency in less than 12 months even if kept in a frozen state.

Sir Frederick and Lady Whyte arrived from Japan a day or two ago and are staying at the Majestic, Shanghai.

SUSPENDED.

A FAMOUS GERMAN RUNNER.

OFFICIAL ACTION.

Berlin, Yesterday. The famous runner, Peltzer, has been suspended from participating in athletic events until he satisfactorily explains his non-appearance at the Franco-German athletic contest at Berlin on Sunday last.

Amsterdam Recalled.

It is recalled that Peltzer at Amsterdam complained of the German athletic officials' treatment of him. He declared he was not given the same treatment as other athletes. —Reuter.

TENNIS STAR.

TWO OF OUR BEST GIRL PLAYERS.

[By F. Gordon Lowe.]

Of all our young girl players Miss Eileen Bennett and Miss Betty Nuthall stand out as the most famous and the most promising. This season the former, who beat Miss Nuthall in a terrific match at Cannes early in the spring, has the better record, whereas last year Betty was distinctly in front.

Perhaps the relative form of this attractive couple in 1928 is as it should be. Miss Bennett, although her strokes took longer to develop, has the more classical style of the two, while Betty still possesses the better temperament for a great occasion.

The match-winning ability of the former however, is improving rapidly, as her recent record in matches along the Riviera coast clearly showed. Previously Miss Bennett had a tendency, and it is still apparent in a lesser degree, to sacrifice winning leads. This happened in her match against Miss Helen Wills last year at Wimbledon, and in a more marked degree against Miss Joan Fry the year before on the centre court.

COCHET AS TUTOR.

The all-round improvements noticeable this year in her game is probably due to the coaching of that lawn tennis genius, Henri Cochet. The little man from Lyons has played with Miss Bennett in numerous "mixed" events, and has evidently taught her a good deal during their partnership.

Together this Anglo-French pair captured the American "mixed" championship at Forest Hills, New York, last autumn, but they scored their greatest triumph only the other day in Paris over Miss Helen Wills and Frank Hunter.

Thus, Wimbledon alone remains to be conquered; they will have their chance this year!

Miss Bennett also won the women's doubles championship with Mrs. Watson in Paris, and reached the final of the singles, in which she found the all-conquering Miss Wills too severe for her. Previously she had beaten Miss Bouman in the semi-final.

"LA BELLE ANGLAISE."

In France Miss Bennett is known as "La Belle Anglaise" because of her attractive appearance on the court. The Parisians also have a high opinion of her play.

This young English girl started out on her tennis career in the right way. Her motto has always been to learn to hit first and steady down afterwards. These methods have paid her well even if she was some time in settling down.

At first she was beaten all round until the strokes that were just going out eventually began to just go in. At last the selection committee have been obliged to recognise officially her abilities, and have chosen her for all important matches this season. In previous years Miss Bennett's name has often been omitted from the list.

The tennis reputation of Miss Nuthall has received a slight setback this year owing most assuredly to the fact that she has changed her underhand service to an overhead one. Her game for the time being has been dislocated, and she has consequently failed to do herself justice in all her matches.

Betty, however, has her whole tennis future before her, as she is only just 17. She had the great advantage starting to play at the early age of eight, and she owes a great deal to her father, who coached her all through the preliminary stages.

The only pity, in my opinion, is that she was not taught an overhead service from the start.

Betty won the Junior Championship of Great Britain in 1924, 1925 and 1926, and probably could have won it again last year from Miss Mackintosh if she had entered.

HOME SOCCER.

WIN FOR ROCHEDALE IN DIVISION III.

London, Yesterday. In the Northern Section of the Third Division Rochdale beat Barrow by four goals to two. —Reuter.

PING PONG.

WAH YAN OLD BOYS STILL UNBEATEN.

The Wah Yan Old Boys' Union won their most important match by defeating the Chinese Athletic (ex-champion team) last Saturday, the scores being 62-46 and thus maintain their unbeaten record. Ng Tai Ping, playing for the Wah Yan Old Boys, secured the individual record of the match, namely, 15 points out of a possible 18.

Singles Tourney.

There are 26 entries for the men's singles tourney and eight for the ladies championship tournament.

The "Bounding Basque" in Action.

Here is the reason why tennis fans all over the world refer to Jean Borotra as "the bounding Basque." The French ace is pictured during his singles play at Wimbledon.

On the other hand, Miss Bennett, whose game, obviously matured later, has never been able to win it!

Miss Nuthall has been hailed on all sides, even by Lacoste, as the future lady champion. This is, of course, quite possible, although she has by no means reached that stage yet.

The driving and technique of Miss Nuthall, fine as they are, could never equal those of the famous Suzanne, although the English girl hits the ball on the forehand and backhand with great force.

REPLY MATTERS MOST.

There is no one who appears to enjoy her tennis more than Betty does, or who regards it less as a "business."

In learning her new service there were two distinct difficulties (the second has been rather overlooked) which Miss Nuthall has had to contend with.

It is not actually the remodelling of her stroke which is the trouble, but the different reply she receives from that new stroke!

Most of her various opponents are more used to handling an overhead delivery than they are an underhand one, which is delivered from many feet behind the base-line (as Betty's was.) She also has to take up an entirely new position nearer to the service-line, which necessitates her having to step back to play her strokes instead of forward, as formerly.

It is certain, however, that when Miss Nuthall is mistress of the new situation she will emerge a finer player than ever before.

THRILLS FOR 'BUSMEN.

Her greatest performance was achieved in 1927 when she beat the famous Mrs. Mallory at Wimbledon. Everyone "went mad" about this result. Later, in New York, she delighted everyone by reaching the final of the American Women's championship, and by taking four games in one set from Miss Wills in the final.

In two previous rounds Betty had accounted for both Miss Goss and Mrs. Chapin.

The amount of publicity Miss Nuthall has received would be enough to turn the head of any ordinary mortal. Not so Miss Nuthall; still it must be most disconcerting to her to know that an army of reporters is waiting to cable the results of her big matches to all parts of the world! Even the 'busmen in Sydney get a thrill when she is beaten.

The supreme test for both girls will come in the Wightman Cup contest against the American women at Wimbledon, and after that there are the championships. Suffice it to say that neither Miss Bennett nor Miss Nuthall will be found wanting on these big occasions. Both have splendid, long tennis careers before them.

OVER ROPES.

ELLIOTT FIGHTING IN AUSTRALIA.

The Australian heavyweight champion, George Thompson (12.10%), the winner on points, and Jack Elliott (England), who scaled 11.10%, provided a real wrestling's thrill at the Sydney Stadium, when they both fell through the ropes in the 11th round on several of the Stadium directors. The incident brought forth a roar from the comparatively few spectators, and went to show how much the onlookers appreciated the rough stuff.

Once in the 12th round and twice in the 13th the two fighters narrowly escaped going over the second strand in other parts of the ring.

Nose Injured.

The match was a most unsatisfactory affair. Thompson fought very poorly for a champion. In the first round he butted Elliott on the nose, severely injuring it. The Englishman's nasal organ bled freely till the end of the fight, and later had to receive attention from Dr. Bohrsman, medical officer, of Stadium, Ltd.

Thompson was frequently warned for butting, and while dodging blows, forcing his head to the body; also for the use of the "shamrock" punch, which is hitting up with the back of the hand, and for hitting with the inside of the gloves, the left in particular.

Elliott was guilty of punching low, but he explained afterwards that he was heartbroken over the whole affair. "Time after time I was butted and nothing was done to stop it," said Elliott, while being examined by Dr. Bohrsman. "I'll give up the game if I am going to be treated like this."

On a former occasion when Elliott and Thompson fought, the former lost on a foul, but Thompson's display was unfavourably commented upon.

Not Scientific.

The contest was decidedly willing at times, but there was a lack of scientific effort. It was really a scrambling affair.

Despite the fact that he was beaten, Elliott, who was heavily handicapped owing to his giving away 14 lb. in weight, had the majority of the spectators calling for him. He was always willing to trade punches, and he did fairly well, considering that he could not breathe owing to the injury to his nose in the first round. However, he battled on, as only a game man could.

Thompson landed many lefts on his opponent's damaged nose. Towards the end of the fight his left eye was cut; now and then the punching was heavy, but on Elliott's part there was an absence of fine right-hand hitting characteristic of previous displays of his.

The French Army beat the British Army by six points in a team jumping competition at the Rhine Army Horse Show, while in the open jumping Lieut. G. N. Deas (8th King's Royal Irish Hussars) took first place.

Lord Derby opened the new Mersey entrance to the Alfred Dock, Birkenhead, which has cost £1,800,000, last month.

For Sale—One "Used Husband."

That's the remarkable proffer which Mrs. Janet Quittner (above with her husband) is alleged to have made to Mrs. Esther Feldman Beck (first below) according to papers in a $50,000 heart balm suit instituted by Mrs. Quittner against Mrs. Beck. The latter denies the larceny charge, saying that plaintiff came to her and said: "If you pay me $50,000, you can have my husband for your husband."

MR. BOTTOMLEY'S WAR LECTURES.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The hearing was continued of the libel action brought by Mr. Horatio Bottomley against Messrs. Hurst and Blackett, publishers, and Mr. Henry James Houston, formerly in Mr. Bottomley's employment, in respect of a book, "The Real Horatio Bottomley," written by Mr. Houston and published by Messrs. Hurst and Blackett.

Mr. Bottomley complained that he had been accused of blackmail in the book.

Mr. Bottomley (who conducted his own case), in cross-examining Mr. Houston, called his attention to the particulars in the defence in mitigation of damages. They stated that in consequence of reports of proceedings in which Mr. Bottomley was concerned Mr. Bottomley was "a man of infamous reputation." Those particulars, said Mr. Houston, were settled by counsel and not by him.

Mr. Bottomley: What was it that made you call me a blackmailer?—Somewhere at the end of August 1922 Mr. Bigland and his solicitor placed a number of dossiers at my disposal.

Did those dossiers have any reference to the specific charges of blackmail raised in this case?—I think some were there. I am sure of one of them.

Mrs. Houston's Money.

Mr. Houston produced ten cheques signed by Mrs. Houston and payable to him. None of them, he agreed, was payable to Mr. Bottomley nor did they refer to the $1,500 which Mr. Houston owed his wife, as was shown in his bankruptcy proceedings. The cheques referred to transactions between himself and Mr. Bottomley.

"The money in the cheques," he added, "was money Mrs. Houston lent to you, Mr. Bottomley, and they were payable to me so that I could cash them and hand you the money. At the time you wanted ready money quickly."

Mr. Bottomley: These cheques were not produced to the Official Receiver as evidence of your indebtedness to Mrs. Houston?—No, I don't think so.

Mr. Bottomley: You say in the book that I never asked you to do anything unfair or anything that was outside the law. Do you think still that it was outside the law to go to Boston's, the Birmingham bookmaker?—If I was a party to blackmail, yes; but I did not at the time realise what it really meant.

Do you still tell the jury that in your opinion I am a blackmailer?—I do. Taking the circumstances into consideration—that no work was done for the payments received—I say that the money was not earned.

And that is what you call blackmail?—Yes.

Mr. Houston said that, in his book he had faithfully endeavoured to set out all that was good about Mr. Bottomley as well as what was bad. "I gave illustrations of his amazing generosity," he added.

"You Earned It." Mr. Bottomley: Do you seriously say that I drew $22,000 out of my war lectures?—Yes, less expenses.

Were there not sometimes losses?—No, and if there were they were borne by the promoters. "But I am prepared to say," Mr. Houston added, "that you were entitled to every penny. It was very hard work, and you earned it."

Mr. Reginald Baker, managing director of the International Correspondence Schools, Ltd., giving evidence, produced two of the company's cheques payable to Mr. Bottomley for $500 each and dated April 29, 1913, and April 1, 1914, respectively. On the face of one were the words "Special payment for services to this company." In 1917, said Mr. Baker, Mr. Bottomley wrote stating that he had some arrangement with the company for regular annual payments and that he had had no payment since 1916. He therefore claimed that there was a considerable sum due.

The company replied that they had no record of the arrangement and eventually the matter dropped. A payment of $500 was made in 1916.

Mr. Bottomley: Did you know anything that would justify the statement that I obtained $500 as consideration for not publishing various complaints received by me relating to the schools?—Personally I didn't because I had nothing to do with the arrangement.

Disappeared From Ship.

Mr. Edgumbe Brighten, formerly vice-chairman of the I.C.S., Ltd., said that the alleged arrangement was made with a director who disappeared from a ship on the journey between England and America.

The hearing was adjourned.

Puerperal fever: 1 case from the city—total 1, 1 Chinese death.

Influenza (not notifiable): 11 deaths during the week.

BABU ENGLISH.

PRETTY EXAMPLE FROM SHANGHAI.

Says the "North China Daily News":—

Though "Babu" English letters have been turned out in their thousands and tend to become monotonous, occasionally a real gem comes to light, and the one below appeals to one as standing very high in the list. It is guaranteed genuine, and was received a few days ago by a well-known Shanghai piece goods agent.

Regards to the Position.

Hearing from some strangers in the Nanking-road Tea Shop Za Sung Low that there was a vacancy in your esteemed office I at once pricked up my ears and listened and having heard I at once seated myself to apply for the position because I know of the worthiness of myself to take over any positions which require common sense but not of the quantity of brains. I will proceed with your indulgence of my past career. I am Chekiang man 28 years of age and well-educated and I joined in the big war of Kiangsu and Chekiang, thinking like the great English people say I must have got Tuchun's baton in my haversack and maybe I will in futures great warlord.

But my sorrows and great disappointments were very great and many as the fleas on elephant's back. But as I learnt in America "I should worry" I decided to run away and become a big business man and therefore I apply to your generosity to grant me the vacancy in your great department.

"And at last he was the ruler of the Queen's Navee" Such an inauguration to becoming a really big business man is hardly usual, is it?

Occupants ran into the street in their night clothes and spirits caused the bar to burn fiercely at a fire in the Bay Malton public-house, Great Portland-street, W.

A NEW FINANCIAL ORGANISATION.

IN NEW YORK.

WITH SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL OF $14,000,000.

THE DIRECTORATE.

New York, Yesterday.
The formation is announced of a new financial organisation, to engage in general banking, entitled the Commercial National Bank and Trust Company, with a capital of $14,000,000.

The President will be Mr. Herbert Howell, the well-known banker, who for many years was with the National Bank of Commerce.

There will be no public offering of stock, and it is understood that the entire capital stock has been subscribed by the Directors who include Mr. Robert Lehman and other bankers, Mr. Walter Chrysler, motor-car manufacturer, Mr. David Schulte, tobacco magnate, Sydney Kent, General Manager of Famous Players Lasky Corporation, and Mr. William Wrigley, chewing gum "king."—Reuter's American Service.

COTTON INDUSTRY.

A DRASTIC REDUCTION OF CAPITAL.

FROM 7 TO 4 MILLIONS.

London, Yesterday.
The drastic reduction of capital from $7,000,000 to approximately $4,000,000 was confirmed in the Manchester Chancery Court in the case of Messrs. Crosses and Winkworth, cotton spinners, Bolton.—Reuter.

CONTRACTORS' SUIT.

FIVE MONTHS OR FIFTY DAYS FOR A JOB?

LONG DRAWN-OUT CASE.

The long drawn-out case in which a contractor alleges he was forced to engage armed Police guards to enable him to continue work came up again before Mr. Justice P. Jacks (Pulane Judge) this morning in the Summary Court.

Plaintiff is Tsang Shing, trading as Tsang Shing Kee of No. 14, Fook Sau-lane, who sues the Wing On Lung, No. 29, D'Aguiar-street, for $861.50 for balance for work done in respect of six houses. Defendant counter-claims $1,000.

Mr. A. J. Arculli is for plaintiff and Mr. M. K. Lo for defendant.

Book Entries.

Defendant was cross-examined this morning. He said that he accepted plaintiff's offer to work in July last year but work did not commence until October because he, defendant, was doing some concrete work which prevented plaintiff, the sub-contractor, from going ahead with his masonry work. Mr. Arculli therefore asked defendant if it was his intention that plaintiff should do the masonry work in fifty days whereas even defendant himself had said that the period was five months.

Defendant also admitted that in certain books there was no reference to specifications, time limit or penalty for exceeding the limit, but there was an entry about plans. This Mr. Arculli asked His Lordship to make a special note of.

STOWAWAYS.

THREE CHINESE ON THE "ST. ALBANS"

Three Chinese appeared before Mr. W. Schofield, at the Kowloon Court this morning, on a charge of stowing-away on the S.S. "St. Albans."

They pleaded guilty and said that they had no money with which to pay for their fare.

The S.S. "St. Albans" arrived yesterday from Australia and Manila. The defendants were discovered among the third-class passengers one day from Batavia. They were placed under arrest on arrival in Hong Kong. Asked if they knew any one here, the defendants answered in the negative. A fine of $15 with the alternative of 2 weeks' hard labour was imposed.

AN AIR DISASTER IN AMERICA.

7 PEOPLE KILLED.

AIR-LINER NOSE DIVES FROM 30 FEET.

AND CRASHES.

Salt Lake City, Yesterday.
Six persons, including a woman and two children are reported killed by the crashing of an air liner near Focatello, Idaho.

Later.
The death toll numbers seven. The air liner was about to land when it nose-dived from a height of 30 feet.—Reuter's American Service.

RIGHTISTS' POWER.

NEW SWOPPING OF POSTS AT NANKING.

TO CO-OPERATE WITH CHIANG.

Shanghai, Yesterday.
It is reported from Nanking that following a series of conferences the members of the Nationalist Party Central Executive Committee have tentatively settled that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek shall become the chairman of the Executive Council, Mr. Tan Yen-kai chairman of the Examination Council, Dr. Wang Chung-hui chairman of the Judicial Committee, Mr. Hu Han-min chairman of the Legislative Committee, Mr. Chang Ching-kiang chairman of the Supervisory Committee and Mr. Hu Han-min concurrently chairman of the Government Council.—Reuter.

(Note: These appointments would indicate (1) rapprochement between Chiang Kai-shek and the Moderates or Rightists, and a resulting check for the Extremists, (2) re-ascendancy to power in the Nationalist administration by the Moderates, with a working majority.)

"SOCONY" OFFICIAL ATTACKED IN YUNNANFU.

Shanghai, Yesterday.
A report from Yunnanfu states that Mr. H. C. Page, manager of the Standard Oil Co., of New York's installation there, was assaulted on Aug. 30 by a Chinese with intent to kill. Mr. Page is, however, reported to be recovering.—Reuter.

WELL-EQUIPPED.

2 HAMMERS, A SAW AND A PAIR OF PINCERS.

ROBBERY FRUSTRATED.

When arrested at 4.30 a.m. yesterday, a Chinese had in his possession two hammers, one saw and a pair of pincers. Before Mr. Walter Schofield, at the Kowloon Court this morning, he admitted that he had implements for the purpose of breaking into the Ngai Hing Knitting factory, at No. 34, Kwong Wah-road.

Detective-Inspector Fallon said that a fink of the factory on hearing a suspicious sound from the back premises, went to investigate the matter. He saw defendant moving against the wall and peeping cautiously into a number of windows. The fink raised the alarm and caught defendant with little difficulty.

"There has been a number of reports received by the police from both Europeans and Chinese of house-breaking," said Det. Inspector Fallon, who added that these seemed to be "on the increase."

Defendant, according to police records, had a previous conviction against him.

A sentence of four months' jail with hard labour was imposed.

The forthcoming marriage is posted at the British Consulate General in Hong Kong. Gerald Maurice Blanchard Thomas, merchant of Tientsin, Miss Louise Kathleen Walker, also of Tientsin.

It was stated that, after breaking windows they climbed into the town gasworks and tampered with the valves of the largest gasometer in England, which might have caused a terrible catastrophe. The gasometer was repaired.

THE MODERNISATION OF AFGHANISTAN.

MANY CHANGES.

PEOPLES' COUNCIL INSTEAD OF STATE COUNCIL.

COMPULSORY CONScription

Moscow, Yesterday.

The modernisation of Afghanistan is proceeding apace, according to a telegram from Kabul which states that the Jirga, the All-Afghan Peoples' Assembly, has decided to establish a Peoples' Council based on direct elections instead of the existing State Council.

The new Council will consist of 150 deputies holding seats for three years.

All titles, ranks and decorations, except the decoration of independence, have been suspended and a new national flag of black, red and green has been substituted for the old black flag. Universal compulsory military conscription will be introduced, beginning at the age of 17 and the period of training will be 3 years.

Officers Going to England.

The War Minister has announced that besides 200 Afghan officers studying in Soviet Russia, Italy, France and Germany, 20 will be sent to England.

The Minister of the Interior has announced the forthcoming erection of wireless stations at Merv and Herat and the construction of three railway lines by French and German contractors.

The King is stated to have arranged for the purchase of 50,000 rifles from France. The Jirga adopted a resolution in favour of a general levy to purchase arms and, amid general enthusiasm, declared that Prince Rakhmatulla, the eldest son of Amanullah, is heir to the Throne.—Reuter.

50,000 PILLS.

OF QUININE AND NOT HEROIN.

FURTHER PROCEEDINGS.

A Japanese named Kukimoto, of No. 218, Praya East, appeared before Mr. R. E. Lindsell at the Central Magistracy this morning charged on remand with the unlawful possession of 50,000 heroin pills.

Chief Preventive Officer Clark, who prosecuted, handed up the Government Analyst's certificate relating to the pills, and said that in face of that certificate he would ask for permission to withdraw the charge against the defendant.

Replying to the Magistrate, Mr. H. A. Taylor, who was present in Court, said that the pills were quinine pills. He (Mr. Taylor) had never seen quinine in that form before. The pills certainly closely resembled heroin pills.

Mr. Lindsell asked if it did not look as if the defendant was trying to palm these quinine pills off as heroin pills.

Mr. Taylor said that he was of that opinion, especially in view of Mr. Clark's statement as to the price the defendant was asking for the pills.

Defendant said that he did not mean to cheat anyone. The pills were given to him by a friend to keep.

In discharging the defendant, Mr. Lindsell remarked that it was curious that the quinine should so closely resemble heroin pills. Quinine had never been turned out in that form before.

With regard to the pills, the C.P.O. said that defendant was bound to be caught again if he was allowed to take them away.

Mr. Lindsell replied that as there had been no case against the defendant, he could not make an order with regard to the pills. He advised the C.P.O. to hold the pills until application was made for them.

Mr. Clark, that might result in a lot of trouble.
